

HUMANE SOCIETY ASKS HELP FROM OTHER ISLANDS

Work Has Increased to Such Extent That Humane Officer
Will Have Assistant

Broadening the scope of the Hawaiian Humane Society with the request that in view of the fact that the humane work is growing so rapidly, residents of other islands interested in the organization be asked for financial aid. Mrs. L. L. McCandless, re-elected as president of the organization for ensuing year, today delivered her report for the year just past. A second suggestion from Mrs. McCandless was that Miss Lucy Ward, humane officer, be given an assistant for her work. The suggestions will be taken up and acted upon by committee.

At the election this morning in the annual meeting of the society, the following officers were chosen: Mrs. L. L. McCandless, president; Mrs. S. M. Damon, first vice-president; Mrs. R. D. Wilson, second vice-president; Mrs. E. P. Low, fourth vice-president; Mrs. W. R. Castle, fifth vice-president; and Mrs. C. Holloway, sixth vice-president. Mrs. M. F. Prosser, secretary, and Mrs. Archie Young, treasurer.

Directors—Miss Lucy Ward, Mrs. E. H. Brown, Mrs. Ed Dekum, Mrs. T. J. King, Mrs. W. W. Thayer, Mrs. A. Haneberg, Auditor, H. M. Dowsett.

Following the reading of her annual report, Miss Lucy Ward was again named as officer for the coming year. The nomination met the unanimous approval of the society. Several matters of minor importance were taken up for discussion, following which the meeting was adjourned.

Following is the entire speech given by Mrs. McCandless, summing up the work during the year just past, and prophesying for the future:

Much Work Handled.

"Another year's work of the Hawaiian Humane Society is brought to a close. The results of our efforts in 1914, as indicated by our agent's report were so increased that our retired agent, Mrs. Dole, marveled at the amount of work handled."

"The agent last year 755 cases of which 321 are pertaining to children. Our report of this current year shows a surprising increase:

"Whole number of cases, 912.

"Children, 307.

"Why has our work grown so steadily and rapidly? Has our agent become more efficient and vigilant? Has more responsibility been thrust upon the institution, or have we in our midst more cruelty, more evil and more destitution?"

"I have named and attribute this increase to any one, for all three causes combined, but rather to the splendid co-operation of the public press, the government and other institutions and to all good people who have materially and actively interested themselves in the betterment of the community and the relief of the suffering and needy. Treasury Not Depleted.

"Notwithstanding the pressing calls and constant demands upon our citizens for relief work in the Orient and to allay the appalling distress in the city, we have to be grateful that our treasury has not been depleted."

"However, with the steady influx of many nationalities our work necessarily increases. Many who are indigent and in destitute circumstances drift Honolulu where their children are rescued, cared for and placed in homes by this and similar societies. Thus we are led to ask: Will the friends from the other islands, those interested and who can afford to assist financially, be able to do so?"

"The scope of our work demands so much that I am impelled to ask that our agent, Miss Ward, be provided with an assistant. I ask this, confident that such assistance will be granted, to the end that there be no abatement of the good work."

"The cases reported by Miss Ward by no means constitute the whole result of our efforts. Of the 25, or more, of our members who are supplied with Hawaiian Humane Society badges, regularly commissioned and legally authorized as humane officers, no regular report has been required. Circulating Library.

"Our committee is circulating a library of 28 volumes bearing on animals, which books have been read and enjoyed by many of our public schools. They are now with the Kaula School."

"With the able assistance of Mrs. Griffiths, Mr. Edgar Wood and Mr. Paul Super, for which the society is deeply grateful, every picture show in the city has been visited and reported upon. In the main these criticisms have been favorable, the people conducting such shows expressing a willingness and desire to cooperate with the committee in the improvement of conditions."

"We sincerely regret that the fund appropriated by the legislature for a detention home failed to materialize. Mrs. Dole, representing our society in the child legislation movement, is pleased, however, to note that one step has been gained in the support of our dependent little ones and that the urgent need of a detention home."

"The work in the department for the prevention of cruelty to animals shows a vigorous and steady growth, 706 cases being regularly reported during the year."

"We regret that our treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Emerson, and our secretary, Miss Swaney, for whose services the society is truly grateful, have retired from our staff of officers."

"In closing, I wish in behalf of the Hawaiian Humane Society to thank the Honolulu press, the gov-

TWO JAPANESE ARE ARRESTED IN 'WAR ZONE'

Held By Army Authorities for Penetrating to Forbidden
Places Within Lines

Two Japanese, taken into custody Monday night within the "war zone" included in the present army maneuver grounds of the army on Oahu, are said to be held by the military authorities until their presence can be fully investigated or explained.

One of the arrests is said to have occurred at Hala, a Japanese settlement near Pearl Harbor, and the other near a temporary army camp in the vicinity of the Moanalua polo grounds.

One of the men, according to information reaching the Nippon Jiji, is about 25 years of age, and not known locally. He seems a man of refinement and education, with a fair command of English. He wore new shoes and a newly purchased suit when taken into custody.

The second man apprehended, according to information credited by the Hawaii Shippo, seems to have been a laborer at Hala.

Chief of Detectives Arthur McDuffie, it has been learned, was summoned by army officials Monday night, and went out to military camp where the Japanese are detained, supposedly to see if he could identify the culprits.

"I cannot discuss this matter," was the only thing McDuffie would say concerning the affair this afternoon.

One of the arrests, it is understood, was made by Lieut. Edward K. Massee of the 2d Infantry.

erment and our friends who have so unselfishly assisted and encouraged us in the fulfillment of our pledge.

First, to provide effective means for the prevention of cruelty to children throughout the territory of Hawaii; to provide temporary homes for vagrant, destitute and exposed children of tender age and of providing for them such other and further relief as may be advisable to rescue them from mortal ruin.

Second, to prevent the inhumane treatment of animals; to secure the enactment of further legislation and the enforcement of the present laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Humane Officer's Report.

Miss Ward's report as humane officer was of much interest. It follows: As officer of the Hawaiian Humane Society I respectfully submit my report for the year ending September 30, 1915. The following shows 912 cases which came to my attention, 207 of which were children's cases, and 706 were with animals, namely:

"Overloading, 35; collar-galls, 14; sore and emaciated, 13; beating, 13; shot, 41; checkreins, 280; arrested and fined, 16; unshod, 12; lame, 256; children, 307; injured, 3; total, 706."

"This is exclusive of the many warnings given, which have often proven as effective as prosecutions. In the case of overloading it is most surprising how some of the firms allow their drivers to load the drays to the utmost, having their overloaded, poorly nourished animals struggle under their burdens."

"I drew the attention of the managers who hardly know a horse's tail from his head—to the treatment of their animals were receiving from some of their drivers, and this they absolutely denied, saying their drivers were all trustworthy. Perhaps publishing the names of these careless managers might have better effect."

"Of the 307 children's cases I found: ill treatment by parents, 48; homes found, 13; placed in Kaula school hospital, 12; Queen's hospital, 4; Leahi Home, 9; Palama Settlement, 4; Salvation Army Home, 24; Castle Home, 4; Lanakila Hale, 1; neglected, 29; forced to marry, 12."

"Besides these mentioned above, several have been taken to the juvenile court and placed either on probation or out to the Girls' Industrial School or the Boys' Reform School. In tubercular cases may I again appeal to the different ice companies to protect their employees against the white plague?"

"These boys start out at 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning, never returning until 11 or 12, being in their wet clothes for six, seven or eight hours. A boy was examined today and pronounced tubercular, this being the fourth case I have had with ice boys, two having already succumbed."

"I wish at this time to thank the Palama nurses for their untiring efforts and cooperation in this humane work, also the police for their kindness and consideration by their prompt response to my calls."

The following committees were named this morning:

Education, Mrs. W. W. Thayer, Edgar Wood, Mrs. E. W. Jordan; Child Welfare, Mrs. A. Haneberg; Mrs. Bernice Walbridge, Miss Alice Cooke; Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mrs. E. Dekum, Miss W. Tenney, G. P. Wilder, Miss Mabel Phillips; Finance, Mrs. R. D. Mead, Mrs. R. C. Brown, Miss Harriet Hatch.

WITNESS FOUND HIDING BEHIND CLOTHES PRESS

phone to Charlie Luning, then book keeper at Waikiki, and may hold the party there; that means Chilton and the party."

The statement bore the signature of George Hieshima, witnessed by F. H. Kanne.

Says Fennell Wrote Letter.

Hieshima testified that the letter had been written by Fennell, but signed by him, Hieshima.

The witness stated that the contents of the letter were not true.

"In the city and county attorney's office at 3 o'clock this morning, did you not say that the contents of the letter were true?" asked Attorney Carden.

"I said that it was the truth because you were scaring me," said the witness. "You said that you would lock me up in jail."

After further examination, Hieshima said:

"Fennell said that if I would sign the paper he would get me a job in a saloon for a long time."

Hieshima then was asked why he was hiding in the clothes press when found by the police officers last night.

"I did not want to come into court as a witness," he replied.

Says Chilton Asked Support.

He added that sometime ago he was told that the case had been dropped, but that later Chilton had come to him and asked him to be a witness in his Chilton's behalf.

The witness also declared that it was not until last night that he knew the prosecution was looking for him to be a witness.

"In the city and county attorney's office this morning, did you not make the statement that Chilton had told you to hide, as he did not want you to be a witness?" urged Attorney Carden.

"I said so, but Chilton never said that to me," was the witness' answer.

"Then why did you say that this morning?" asked Carden.

"Because you said that you would put me in jail, and I was afraid," said the witness.

"Who told you that?" shouted Carden.

The witness answered that it was Carden who had told him and that Lake also had said something about it.

"Lake said that if I didn't tell it right, Carden would put me in jail," was the substance of his answer.

"For what reason, then, did you tell the falsehood this morning?"

"Was afraid," is excuse.

"Chilton never told me to go and hide. But I was afraid," said the witness.

"Fennell and all those then were there and was afraid that if I didn't say that Chilton had told me to go into hiding, I would go to jail."

Following further direct and brief cross-examination of the witness, Detective Lake was called to the stand.

Lake said that, during the meeting in the city attorney's office this morning, he did not see or hear any threats made to the Japanese witness.

According to Lake, the Japanese, when found, said that he was hiding in the clothes press because he was expecting friends and he "wanted to look after himself."

"During cross-examination of Lake, Attorney C. H. McBride, one of the counsel for the defense, referred to the prosecution on one occasion as 'Mr. Carden, second, third, fourth or fifth deputy city attorney.'"

Attorney McBride was promptly called down by the court, adjudged to be in contempt, and fined $10.

Third Deputy City Attorney Chilton was called by the prosecution with regard to statements made by Hieshima during the meeting this morning.

POLICE COURT NOTES

Pvt. Blankenship of Company B, 1st Infantry, was treated in the police emergency hospital last night for a cut over the eye inflicted by Antonio Kahina. Kahina claims that Blankenship and J. B. Byers, another soldier, came up to him in Aiea park, where he was sitting with his wife, and abused him. Byers, he says, took a gun from him, and he then attacked Blankenship and pushed him against a tree, inflicting a cut. The case will be heard in the police court as soon as Blankenship can appear.

A Spanish woman, sick and mentally unbalanced, was unloaded on the dock here from an inter-island steamer, and the police now have her in detention. Sue was shipped here it is said from the Honouliuli plantation because she was sick and unable to work. Immigration authorities would not help her and Policeman Barboza, who was summoned to the dock after the woman had been there all day, took her to jail and gave her something to eat. The woman was half-starved. She will probably be sent to an asylum.

Sammie Hi, a 3-year-old Korean boy, was run down while playing in front of his parent's home on Dowsett street yesterday by a wagon driven by Ah Kui, and was badly cut about the face and head. Kui did not stop to help the little boy, but claimed in Judge Monsarrat's court today that he did not know the child was hurt. Kui was charged with reckless driving, but the case was dismissed.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray McKenzie adjusted their difference today and are living in domestic felicity after several months of separation. McKenzie had applied for divorce and Mrs. McKenzie had him arrested for non-support. When they got together today they decided that it was all wrong and both cases were withdrawn.

CLAIM CHINESE PAID CRAWFORD CASH FOR FINES

Man Now in China Rumored to Have Collected in Advance
From Cheta Gamblers

Shadows are now being cast on the reputation of "Cheta" Willie Crawford by some of those involved in the mix-up which grew out of the use of an old form of bond-on-appeal by the courts here, which resulted in the escape of 122 men from paying fines imposed for gambling.

Crawford was connected with several of the cases, and in some instances he arranged for bond for the defendants. Shortly after they were disposed of he went to China, and now some of those interested are claiming that a number of the Chinese paid their fines to Crawford with the understanding that he would pay the money into the court.

In the hurry of his leaving, Willie, it is said, forgot to turn over the money.

Though many of the charges are indefinite in one instance Judge Ashford allowed the defendant gambler to go when he was brought into court a second time.

Lum Sing Dismissed.

In this instance, Lum Sing was fined $50 and costs in the circuit court on appeal. Sing was out on bond, but as he did not appear and pay the fine he was re-arrested and brought into court. When he appeared he brought with him two witnesses, and it was clearly shown that Sing had given Crawford money to pay the fine that Prosecuting Attorney Brown asked the court to nolle prosequere the case and Sing was allowed to go.

It is claimed that Crawford did the same thing in a number of the other cases, although it has not been proved. Crawford is an ex-member of the legislature and was licensed to practice in the lower courts. He is now said to be in China, and is ill with tuberculosis.

Another complication in connection with the bond cases came up today when the statement was made at police headquarters that fines were still due in two appeal cases besides those which have already been given publicity. The two cases are those of Nakamura and twelve others who were fined $6 and costs of $3.50 on May 21, 1914, and appealed to the circuit court, and of Hing Chau and 28 others, convicted of gambling and fined $10.65 each in the police court on June 30, 1915. Attorney Rawlins and later Attorney Lorrin Andrews appeared in the first case, and Rawlins appeared in the latter case.

Fined Again in Circuit Court.

The first case in which fines still appear against the defendants on the police court books, was nolle prosequere for lack of evidence in the circuit court. In the last case the defendants seem to have been fined $10.65 again in the circuit court.

Whether the Chinese paid the $10.65 fines levied seems to be doubtful. No positive information that the fines had been paid could be obtained today in the circuit court, and at the police court records show that the fines were still due.

W. J. Sheldon claims that he did not offer a bond similar to the bond under which the Chinese gamblers escaped to Judge Monsarrat. He claims that the bond in the Overbay case was for Overbay's appearance in any court at any time, and that Overbay was under sentence of six months and could not escape serving the sentence if bond was up without forfeiture of the bond.

NAVY INCREASE
PLANS TO COST
$120,000,000

cost of $15,000,000, or 16 destroyers, at a cost of $18,000,000, most of which would be for coast defense and several of which would be seagoing vessels, to cost $20,000,000.

Aircraft to cost $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

One supply ship, 1 fuel ship and 1 hospital ship, the three to cost between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

Experts Are Divided.

There is a division among navy experts on two or three of these items. Some naval officers would build 2 dreadnoughts and 2 battle cruisers, while others would build 4 dreadnoughts. Secretary Daniels has not decided upon his recommendation for battleships, but it is believed that he will recommend an expenditure of about $17,000,000 for battle cruisers that are fast and powerful and dreadnoughts. The best guess is two of each kind.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether the building program should call for 8 cruisers of the third class at $15,000,000 or 16 destroyers at $18,000,000. Some experts prefer cruisers, while others prefer destroyers.

The program will call for a number of new submarines. It is believed that Mr. Daniels will recommend appropriations for at least 4 seagoing submarines with 30 coast defense submarines.

The lowest estimate for additional aircraft is $5,000,000, and the highest $10,000,000.

The total appropriation for 1915-16 was $147,451,845. It is understood that Mr. Daniels' estimates for 1916-17 will call for nearly $25,000,000.

BLAME MILEAGE FOR JURORS FOR BIG OVERDRAFT

Circuit Courts of First Judicial District Have Far Overrun Allowance

For the biennial period ended June 30 last the circuit courts of the first judicial circuit, the jurisdiction of which is the city and county of Honolulu, overran their legislative allowance by nearly $10,000.

At last session the legislature authorized the board of supervisors to appropriate $5000 to cover the shortage then existing in court expenses, but by the end of the period there was an additional overdraft on the fund amounting to $4508.50. The total expenses incurred were $38,508.50, against the statutory allowance of $29,000.

City and County Auditor Bicknell has put up to the supervisors the question of whether the present deficiency should be treated as a direct charge against the current biennial appropriation of $29,000—which would leave only $2741 for the six months ending December 31—or a matter for the board to appropriate.

Under the regular appropriation the board of supervisors has no control over the expenditures of the circuit courts, but in the case of extra appropriations—which the statute allows—there is a legal opinion from the attorney's department on file to the effect that the supervisors have the right to scrutinize all demands for payment therefrom.

Fees and mileage of grand and trial jurors are said to be the chief items in the excessive expenses of the three circuit court divisions. If the grand juries speeded up their business somewhat, it is said by high court officials, and if the judges were all careful to avoid the unnecessary attendance of jurors not actually engaged on cases, the expenses could be materially reduced.

'AIR COURSE' IS GIFT OF WOMAN

An aeroplane and courses of training for two officers and two mechanics was presented to the National Guard of New York last month by a prominent and patriotic woman who does not want her name made public. New York is the only state to have aeroplanes in the National Guard and Naval Militia.

The sum of $5000 has been given to the Aero Club of America in addition to the $10,000 already given for the training of militia officers.

Five aeroplanes have been offered by Earle Remington for the training of militia officers and the Aero Club of America; $2000 for the training of militia officers in California, Arizona and Texas, at the rate of $400 for each of the machines offered.

Charged with a statutory offense, Ah Sing was fined $100 in federal court today. Fannie Guerrero, who was arrested with Ah Sing, was sentenced to detention in the marshal's office until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The jurors in the Scully-Chilton conspiracy case will not be wanted in court until 8:30 o'clock next Friday morning, the case having been continued until that time. Judge Ashford will be in the supreme court tomorrow.

"Two people have been killed and one of them is Agnes," testified with statements of Antonino Long and the other witness, each of whom claimed he had left the Long house without definite knowledge that anyone was killed. The seeming discrepancy was partly explained by George Rosa, who said Antonino had told him there had been a big fight at the Long place and "perhaps" some one was killed. He said that from the accounts of the fight and Antonino's wounds he got the impression that Ella Long had killed his wife, Ella, he said, was known as a violent man and his temper was so bad that those in his house always tried to keep weapons out of his reach.
